Dear Parent/Carer,

A Level History Coursework Deadlines

I am writing to make you aware of your son/daughter's History coursework deadlines.

Whilst your son/daughter's History coursework is important, I also want the students to be aware that this is only worth 20% of their overall grade. It is therefore not advisable for this to get in the way of their preparation for their two History A Level exams.

For that reason we have set the coursework deadlines as outlined below. It is vital your son/daughter adheres to these deadlines and that if they are absent on the day their coursework is due, they email a copy to their teacher on that day. Late coursework submission will result in feedback being delayed. If deadlines are consistently not being met it may mean that no feedback is given on certain pieces of work.

	Deadline
First draft	5 th January 2018
Second draft	29 th January 2018
Third draft	19 th February 2018
Final draft	12th March 2018

Your son/daughter will have been working on their coursework in class since the summer term of Year 12 as well as throughout Year 13 and there are numerous helpful resources on Fronter to support them. If you wish to discuss these issues please feel free to contact me via email on ajeffries2.312@lgflmail.org.

Yours faithfully,

Mr A Jeffries
 History Teacher and Head of Year 13
