Dear Parent/Carer,

Additional Websites used in Mathematics

In order to support your son/daughter with targeted material to improve their understanding of work, the Maths Department will be making use of two websites in addition to the Mathswatch and Mymaths websites that we currently use.

The two new websites that we will be using will be www.Pinpointlearning and www.Dr.Frostmaths.com.

The Pinpoint Learning site will not require students to enter any details other than the password and an anonymous login, which the Maths Department will provide for them. For the DrFrostmaths.com website, students will need to register with their school emails via a link that will be sent via the Show My Homework website. It is important to note that the school email must be used rather than a personal email address.

If there are any questions with regard to the above sites please feel free to contact me at pkelly@bishopramsey.school.

Yours sincerely,

Mr P Kelly
Head of Mathematics
